

What Barbizon Has Done for Me
By: Lizzie Schilling

When I first signed up to become a student at Barbizon school of Modeling, I had no interest in becoming a model. I wanted to become a famous actress, and now, I'm proud to say that I still want to be a famous actress. No, really, if I don't make it as a famous actress, I would love to be a model. Just everything about it, I love. When I'm up on the runway, I feel so much better about myself because everyone in the audience is watching me and they know that I am a model. And models are known for being very beautiful and graceful, and when I say that I am a model, that's what I think of. Barbizon has taught me how to look and feel so much better and I owe any success that I might get in my future to Barbizon.

Thank you, Barbizon!

Love,

Lizzie Schilling
